Work Experience

- 2022–2024

Vollzo PVT.LTD.

Vollzo is a Ship management product base company. I Developed and implemented a comprehensive ERP system using Laravel and MySQL, enhancing business operations across multiple departments. Designed and integrated modules for inventory management, finance, human resources, and customer relationship management. Ensured optimal database performance, data integrity, and secure access controls. Collaborated with stakeholders to gather requirements and deliver a user-friendly interface. Conducted thorough testing and debugging to ensure a reliable and scalable solution.
- 2021–2022

OVENT 24 PVT.LTD

Ovent is a product base company. I have worked on Online Examination System. It is a web-based application designed to streamline the process of conducting exams online. It provides a platform for administrators to create and manage exams, and for students to take exams remotely. The system is built using PHP as the backend language and incorporates HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and MySQL for frontend design and database management. Key Features: User Authentication: The system allows administrators, instructors, and students to register and login securely. Different roles are assigned different permissions to access various features. Exam Creation and Management: Administrators can create exams by specifying details such as exam name, duration, instructions, and question bank selection. They can also edit, delete, or schedule exams as needed. Question Bank Management: Questions are categorized and stored in a question bank for easy retrieval during exam creation.
